(1) SAXBY SECURITY LIGHT

This outdoor security light is designed to send out a dazzling glare whenever it's activated by its PIR (passive infrared) sensors. A great addition for anyone who has a shady doorway, as well as improving security, it will definitely help you find your keys at night. £50.99, gardenfurnitureworld.com

(2) BURTON TORINO MMK14 SAFE

When the experts at Which? tried to break their way into this safe, they couldn't. No amount of drilling, hammering or smashing could get them inside, which is why, when it's bolted down, insurers will underwrite its contents up to a total of £6,000. £279, barringtonsecurity.co.uk

(3) DUMMY CAMERA

Far cheaper than a real CCTV set-up, dummy cameras can still be an effective deterrent to troublemakers. Made from a real camera housing containing a genuine camera body and lens, this model should bear up to close scrutiny. £29.99, maplin.co.uk

(4) BARKING DOG ALARM

For the rottweiler effect, but without the bite marks, this is the perfect device. Once triggered, the alarm gives out the sound of a vicious guard dog that should send burglars scurrying. With a 360-degree radar detector, the alarm is effective even through walls. £39.99, clifford-james.co.uk

(5) SIREN PADLOCK

If a lock won't do it, perhaps a lock with a built-in alarm will. The heavy-duty padlock can be used for sheds, cupboards, crates or cycles, and the alarm will be activated if the lock is touched, moved, or knocked, hopefully giving potential thieves a scare. £9.15, amazon.co.uk

(6) FAKE TV LIGHT

A very clever update on the timer switch, the fake TV light mimics the coloured flashes and glow of a television, making it seem as though you have your feet up while watching Corrie, when really you are miles away enjoying peace of mind on your holiday. £24.99, maplin.co.uk

(7) HEINZ CAMO SAFE

Sometimes security doesn't need to be complicated. Spycatcheronline has an entire range of 'camo' safes made out of real, branded grocery containers, such as Heinz baked beans and Pringles tins. A smart way to hide any valuables. £12, spycatcheronline.co.uk

(8) MAT-ON-GUARD PRESSURE DOOR MAT

Featured on The Gadget Show, this pressure mat will send a wireless signal to a chime unit whenever someone steps on it. Perfect for those who want an extra alert when anyone enters the house, or even for those who are happy to leave their door unlocked but want to know when they've got a visitor. £42.50, grandoffers.co.uk

(9) PURE DAB RADIO WI-FI CAMERA WITH NIGHT VISION

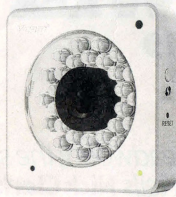

It might look like a radio, but actually it's a camera you can use to keep a secret eye on happenings in your home. It's also a radio, so you can always tune in to Magic FM to help ease those house-hold anxieties. £550, spyspashop.co.uk

(10) Y-CAM CUBE HD 1080

Small and sleek, the Y-Cam offers high-quality footage in the day, while powerful night vision kicks in when it's dark. On top of that, the camera offers real-time streaming to computers or smartphones, so you can check in on your property from anywhere in the world. £124.99, y-cam.com
